I do not seem to have a copy of the original email dated October 15 due to the time lapsed which I stress is 2 1/2 years . Also again I did think you were part of a multi agency due to the nature of my work ,working with vulnerable children and adults. The domestic incident was a verbal argument between myself and my partner I left house to defuse the argument kick a bucket in garden out of frustration which freakily smashed a window the police were called, I sat and waited for the police and admitted to breaking the window there for got a charge of criminal damage. This is my final submission
