NHS in the headlines

- A&E under pressure nationally
- System-wide pressures – caused by more people needing to be admitted more than higher numbers turning up
- Increased demand on community services – community hospitals, intermediate care, care home placements and packages of care

Changes at the top

- Dr Sam Barrell (CCG Chief Clinical Officer) leaving next month
- Dr Derek Greatorex (current deputy) will take on interim role until successor is appointed

Changes at the top

- Mairead McAlinden appointed as Chief Executive of SDHFT from April 2015
- Will also lead new Integrated Care Organisation
- Has been leading integrated health and social care trust in Northern Ireland for last 5 years

Integrated Care Organisation

*South Devon and Torbay
Clinical Commissioning Group*

- Merger of acute and community trusts
- Founding principle to move more care from acute hospital setting to the community
- Staff will work across the whole system, outreaching to the community
- Approval process continuing – expect approval later this year

Aligning practices with care homes

- Designed to improve the quality of care patients receive by aligning a GP practice to be lead per Care Home (or two practices for larger homes)
- To aid continuity of care, reduce the number of care homes visited by each practice and to establish strong relationships between practices, Care Homes and District Nurse teams
- Will take time to bed into the system, with a gradual shift of patients from practices over time

Enhanced services

- Practices would be required to undertake an initial visit and review of patient medication alongside the medicines optimisation pharmacist
- Based on a medicines optimisation pilot that demonstrated good outcomes for patients through careful and consistent review of medications
- Launched 1st December
