Dear Sir

RE: RUDE BAR / QUEENS HOTEL VICTORIA PARADE TORQUAY

Noticing the planning application for a pavement licence at the above address, concerns me somewhat. Being situated in an area renowned for the young nighttime revellers, intent on having what they call "a good time", one feels restrictions should be implemented if planning permission is granted.

With the opening up again of Route 66 in the next few weeks Victoria Parade will once again be a thoroughfare for the nightclub generation passing backwards and forwards to the array of pubs and clubs in this very area.

Wetherspoons and Woody's were granted pavement licences but with restrictions on the time that they could keep the tables and chairs outside. Therefore a similar restriction should be implemented to Rude Bar.

Being in this business for over 20 years one sees first hand what happens outside this restaurant night after night, it is not pleasant, the fighting and the verbal abuse I have to contend with outside the restaurant is only a fraction of what goes on.

Regeneration to the harbourside is paramount in my mind, but until the area is cleared of the binge drinking culture, tables and chairs outside Rude will just become another hazard for the Police unless restrictions are implied.

Yours faithfully

Norma Hannah
