Report Title: Update on the Children's Continuous Improvement Board and Reforms

When does the decision need to be implemented?

Cabinet Member Contact Details: Cllr Nick Bye, Lead Cabinet Member for Children's Services

Director Contact Details: Nancy Meehan, Director of Children's Services

1. Purpose of Report

This report provides the Children's Overview and Scrutiny Board with an update on Torbay's Children's Continuous Improvement Plan 2026–2029, approved by the Children's Continuous Improvement Board (CCIB) in June 2026, and on the national reforms affecting children's services.

Members are invited to note the partnership's priorities, governance arrangements, current direction of travel and the implications for children, young people and families in Torbay.

2. Background Documents

3. Introduction

Children's Continuous Improvement Plan 2026–2029

The Plan was developed following the January 2026 inspection of local authority children's services, which again judged Torbay's children's services to be Good, and in response to the changing national policy and legislative context. It provides a single partnership framework for continued improvement while retaining a clear focus on children's lived experience and outcomes.

The Plan is owned by the CCIB, a partnership board attended by the Council's Chief Executive and comprising representatives from the Council, elected Members, education, health, police and the voluntary and community sector. It is structured around three ambitions:

- Delivering Best Practice – assuring and challenging the quality and impact of services, including information sharing, repeat referrals, assessment timeliness and outcomes for vulnerable learners.
- Developing a Child Friendly Torbay – ensuring children and young people are valued, listened to and able to thrive, with priorities including housing and youth homelessness, locality-based understanding of need, education inclusion and SEND.
- Transformative Developments – identifying and responding to system change, including neglect, exploitation and missing children, health equity for children in care, youth justice, education, employment and training, and wider system reforms.

The Plan is a live document. Progress is monitored through three annual deep dives, concise exception reporting and oversight of performance and quality assurance information. New legislation, statutory guidance and findings from national reviews are considered for inclusion so that the partnership remains focused on contemporary risks and opportunities without duplicating work undertaken through other boards.

National reform update

The Children's Social Care Reset and the Children's Wellbeing and Schools Act 2026 set a substantial programme of reform to be introduced in phases between 2026 and 2029. The overall direction is towards earlier and more joined-up help, stronger family networks, clearer multi-agency safeguarding, improved support for cared for and care experienced children and young people, and stronger shared leadership across local partnerships.

Key areas include:

- an integrated Family Help model bringing early help and child in need support together;
- stronger multi-agency child protection arrangements and information sharing;
- a statutory offer of family group decision making at pre-proceedings where this is in the child's best interests;
- greater support for kinship care, including a clear local offer;
- strengthened care leaver support, particularly housing, financial support and preparation for adulthood;
- stronger and wider corporate parenting responsibilities;
- increased focus on education, attendance, inclusion and wellbeing; and
- reforms to sufficiency, fostering, commissioning and regional care arrangements.

Many of these priorities are already reflected in Torbay's improvement activity, including Family Help, kinship care, family decision making, care leaver support, sufficiency, corporate parenting, safeguarding, education, attendance and wellbeing. The CCIB is therefore overseeing reform through existing arrangements rather than creating a separate programme. Corporate parenting matters remain under the Corporate Parenting Board, while statutory safeguarding responsibilities remain with the Torbay Safeguarding Children Partnership.

National guidance and commencement dates continue to develop. Current indicative milestones include Family Help, family group decision making and kinship arrangements during 2026; information-sharing and care leaver changes from autumn 2026; further safeguarding and education reforms during 2027; and wider corporate parenting duties for relevant public bodies expected from autumn 2027. Oversight will focus on readiness, impact, risks and cross-partnership barriers.

If implemented well, the reforms should mean earlier help, fewer service handovers, stronger family and community connections, improved stability for children in care, better support into adulthood and a stronger focus on education and wellbeing. Key risks include workforce and partnership capacity, delays in national guidance, inconsistent understanding, financial and sufficiency pressures, data quality and the risk of activity becoming process-led rather than focused on children's lived experience.

5. Financial Opportunities and Implications

This report is for information and does not seek approval for additional expenditure. Individual reform requirements may have workforce, commissioning, sufficiency, data and financial implications. These will be assessed through the relevant governance and budget processes as national guidance and local delivery plans are developed.

6. Legal Implications

The Children's Improvement Plan supports the Council and its partners to maintain oversight of existing and emerging statutory duties for children. The national reforms introduce or strengthen duties relating to family group decision making, information sharing, kinship care, care leaver support, safeguarding, education and corporate parenting. Specific legal implications will be considered as provisions commence and further statutory guidance is published.

7. Engagement and Consultation

The Plan was developed and agreed through the CCIB partnership. It commits the Board to systematically seek and use the views and lived experience of children and young people when testing progress and shaping future priorities. Relevant local offers, including kinship care and care leaver support, will be informed by engagement with children, young people, families, carers, practitioners and partners.

8. Procurement Implications

There are no direct procurement implications arising from this information report. Any future procurement or commissioning activity required to implement reforms will be considered through the Council's established governance and procurement arrangements, including social value requirements.

9. Protecting our naturally inspiring Bay and tackling Climate Change

This is an information report and has no direct environmental or climate impact. Environmental considerations will be addressed through the appropriate assessment process where future reform activity involves service redesign, commissioning, property, transport or other material changes.

10. Associated Risks

The principal risk is that national reform requirements are not implemented in a sufficiently coordinated or timely way across the partnership. This could lead to gaps or duplication in governance, inconsistent practice, capacity pressures and limited evidence that changes are improving children's experiences and outcomes.

These risks are mitigated through CCIB oversight, clear allocation of responsibilities across existing boards, deep dives, exception reporting, performance and quality assurance information, and escalation of significant partnership barriers. Particular attention will be given to workforce, finance, data, sufficiency, statutory compliance and the voice of children and young people.

12. Cumulative Council Impact

The reform programme has cross-Council implications, particularly for housing, education, finance, commissioning, workforce, data and wider corporate parenting responsibilities. These dependencies will be mapped and managed through existing governance arrangements.

13. Cumulative Community Impacts

The reforms require a whole-system response from the Council, education, health, police, housing and voluntary and community sector partners. Coordinated implementation should strengthen earlier help, safeguarding, family stability, education, health and preparation for adulthood. CCIB will maintain oversight of cross-partnership dependencies and escalate barriers where required.

14. Recommendation

Members are asked to note the Children's Continuous Improvement Plan 2026–2029, the current national reform programme and Torbay's approach to oversight through existing partnership governance arrangements.

Torbay Children's Continuous Improvement Plan 2026 – 2029

TORBAY COUNCIL

INTRODUCTION

This plan comprises 3 ambitions that encapsulate the improvements that we wish to make for children and young people in Torbay. 'Owned' by the Council Chief Executive, the responsibility for implementing and delivering the plan rests with its members drawn from across the partnership. Significantly, the plan incorporates the children's strategic plan following a unanimous decision of the Children's Continuous Improvement Board (CCIB) in September 2024. The ambitions will remain in place over the 3-year cycle of the plan but in recognition of the dynamic and frequently changing need of children and young people actions will be prioritised, time limited and amended when required but at least on an annual basis at a formal dedicated review meeting of the CCIB. Progress against each of the ambitions and actions will be publicly reported in a CCIB annual report that will be presented to Torbay Councils Cabinet meeting in the early summer of each year (date to be fixed once the Cabinet meeting schedule is agreed). As part of our commitment to assuring the involvement of children and young people a child friendly version of this plan and the annual report to Cabinet will be simultaneously produced.

FOREWORD FROM THE BOARD MEMBERS AND PARTNERS

As partners representing Torbay Council, our elected Members, schools, health services, the police, and the voluntary and community sector, we are united in our commitment to children and young people across Torbay. The Children's Continuous Improvement Plan is a testament to our shared vision and collaborative spirit.

We celebrate the achievement of Torbay Children's Services being again rated 'Good' by Ofsted (January 2026), and we pledge to build on this success by working together to deliver even better outcomes for children and families. Our partnership is rooted in trust, openness, and a relentless focus on what matters most: the lived experiences and aspirations of our children and young people.

Through this plan, we will:

- Ensure every child and young person has the opportunity to thrive
- Foster a culture of innovation, accountability, and continuous learning
- Champion children's rights and participation in all decisions ensuring that their voices are heard, understood and acted upon
- Work together to create safe, healthy, and inclusive communities

We thank all our partners for their ongoing commitment and invite children, young people, and families to join the CCIB partnership on this journey where your voices will be highly valued and will help shape the work that we do. Together, we will make Torbay a place where every child feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their best.

WELCOME

Welcome to the Children's Continuous Improvement Plan—a beacon of ambition, partnership, and hope for every child and young person in Torbay. At a time when Torbay Children's Services has once again been rated 'Good' by Ofsted, we stand proud of our collective achievements yet remain restless in our pursuit of excellence. This renewed recognition is not just a badge of honour—it is a springboard for even greater aspiration, innovation, and impact.

Our Plan is the driving force behind a bold vision. It is an essential guiding framework for the CCIB as well as a public statement of intent available to the citizens of Torbay. It embodies our drive to make Torbay a place where every child is safe, their rights are championed, their voices are heard, and their potential is limitless. Guided by the Torbay Council Community and Corporate Plan, the Children and Young People's Plan, and underpinned by our Child Friendly Action Plan, we are committed to ensuring that children and young people are not just beneficiaries of our services, but active partners in shaping them.

Our Mission

To champion the rights, safety, success and voice of every child and young person in Torbay by delivering consistently high-quality services, working in strong partnership, and driving continuous improvement so that every child can thrive and achieve.

What This Means in Practice

We are committed to listening to children and young people, acting early to support families, and working collaboratively across education, health, policing, and the voluntary sector. Guided by children's rights, inclusion, and co-production, we will build on what works, challenge ourselves to do better, and remain ambitious for the futures of all children. We will do this by adopting a place-based approach, working with local partners and communities across Torbay to ensure that support is joined up and right for local families. Continuous improvement is at the heart of our work—ensuring services are responsive, effective, and shaped by lived experience so every child grows up safe, healthy, confident, and empowered. As a Children's Continuous Improvement Board, we will use our collective knowledge, skills and resources to support, encourage and appropriately challenge those responsible for developing and delivering services without fear or favour.

THE IMPROVEMENT JOURNEY

Children, young people and their families rightly expect high quality services, particularly in times of need. Our ambition remains unaltered for children and their families to benefit from good or better services in which they have ‘a voice’ and become fully involved remains strong and central to all that we do. We continue to understand the task ahead, and we are determined to build on what Ofsted has again judged to be good progress across the services for children. The significant success we have achieved has logically led to the Continuous Improvement Board increasingly focussing upon the partnership arrangements which are critical for success. The Continuous Improvement Plan does not reflect the extent of work being undertaken to drive up the quality of services to a level that children and young people have a right to expect. Some of this work will quite properly take place within individual and joint services, monitored by their own formal arrangements, as a reflection of their ‘business as usual’ approach. For example, it is recognised and accepted that we are still focussed on SEND improvement, schools are properly concerned with improving attainment and Torbay like many other areas of the country are concerned to ensure that elective home education (EHE) should be used judiciously and properly supported. The Board has mechanisms through its oversight of performance data and analysis to ensure that any areas of concern that warrant its attention can be escalated and incorporated into the plan.

OUR CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT PLAN AND THE ROADMAP TO EXCELLENCE

The tables below detail the action that we are taking in order to continue to progress to excellence on our improvement journey. The document will continue to be periodically updated to show progress. It is a ‘live’ document which continues to be updated as required and as progress is made.

The Childrens Continuous Improvement Board is the owner of this improvement plan and responsible for ensuring that its implementation is progressed and that updates continue to be provided on a prescribed basis.

We are confident that if we achieve the aims and objectives set out in this plan, we will become an outstanding Local Authority Children’s Service, and our children and young people will benefit from consistently excellent services delivered by a highly skilled and motivated workforce in conjunction with our partners. The specific criteria used by Ofsted to assess outstanding services are published in the inspection framework guidance.

OUR APPROACH:

The following diagram is a representation of the critical interrelationship between partnership, leadership, management and governance. It illustrates that in pursuing enquiries in relation to each of the ambitions, partnership, leadership, management and governance will be an active and significant consideration. The tables which follow set out our objectives and our intended achievements against each ambition. Scrutiny of each ambition will form the basis of the CCIB work programme and will comprise agreed elements of the priorities of each children’s facing board.

The CCIB will conduct three Deep Dive exercises per year focussing upon each ambition in an agreed sequence. Deep Dive teams will comprise the Chief Executive, the CCIB Chair and two identified CCIB Partners who will scrutinise the progress of the actions under each ambition having met with the action leads to establish whether the objectives relating to each ambition has been met or is on track to do so. This information will be reported to the CCIB with recommendations if necessary.

In addition, the CCIB will benefit from the provision of exception reports that will detail in concise form the current state of each action in the improvement plan. This report will set out whether progress is judged by the action lead to be on track. Where it is delayed, or where barriers to progress are being encountered the action lead will be required to present brief detail and any mitigations they have put into place. The CCIB will judge whether they will need to offer support or advice on further actions and these will be recorded and notified to the action lead and the relevant children's facing board chairperson. The board will also actively consider whether there needs to be any amendment to the wording of the plan. The CCIB will consider whether a further detailed exception report is required that will be presented to the next CCIB meeting, or in exception whether audit activity or a Chief Executive led targeted deep dive is undertaken that will be reported to the CCIB in due course.

New or revised statutory guidance, legislation and findings from national reviews will automatically be considered for inclusion in the work programme so that we can be assured that the partnership will always be sighted on contemporary issues. In setting the detail of the work programme, board members will be conscious to avoid duplication, instead focussing upon lines of enquiry that will directly impact upon improving services for children and young people.

Partnership, Leadership, Management and Governance

Partnership, Leadership, Management and Governance

Ambition 1 - Delivering Best Practice

Objective:

- By assuring and challenging practice, support operational and strategic management to achieve the highest quality service standards that benefit children, young people and their families. The purpose of best practice is not only compliance or quality assurance, but better safety, stability, progress and lived experience for children and young people.
- We will achieve this by –
 - Evaluating the impact of services upon children and young people and their families and understanding their lived experiences
 - Identifying features of service that are strong
 - Highlight variances from statute, policy, management and operational practice requirements
 - Identifying and reporting upon learning from evaluation and scrutiny and feeding back to child focussed partnership boards for them to consider whether actions are required

Partnership, leadership, management and governance will be an integral part of the consideration of every action.

Ambition 2 – Developing a Child Friendly Torbay

Objective:

- Working with a common purpose across the children's focussed partnerships to secure a child friendly community in which Torbay children and young people are valued, listened to and able to thrive so that they develop healthily, safely and achieve their potential. A child friendly Torbay is one where children and young people are not only heard, but experience tangible improvements in inclusion, opportunity, safety, belonging and life chances.
 - We will achieve this by –
 - Ensuring that the child friendly action plan is incorporated into the priorities of each of the child facing partnerships
 - Systematically consulting with young people to understand that delivery of the plans requirements continues to be relevant to the needs of the young people and demonstrably improves their lived experiences
 - Periodically collate the views of young people with other forms of evaluated evidence and feedback to child facing partnerships to consider any changes to their priorities or implementation plans
- Partnership, leadership, management and governance will be an integral part of the consideration of every action.

Ambition 3 – Transformative Developments

Objective:

- Identifying and responding to system changes in ways which maximise partnership benefit for children, young people and their families. Transformation and system change must lead to better support and better outcomes for children, while protecting them from the disruption and unintended consequences of reform.
- We will achieve this by –
 - Immediately identifying new statute, guidance or national reviews and assess the content and recommendations for their impact for all services making recommendations to the Council, partner agencies and children's facing partnership boards.
 - Evaluating the impact of transformation plans to establish the impact upon children, young people and their families by means of the appropriate range of quality assurance methods. Findings to be collated and reported upon to the Transformation Board, highlighting progress and barriers to implementation and delivery.
 - Ensuring that the experiences of children and young people are gathered and used to inform the details of any implementation and delivery plans

Partnership, leadership, management and governance will be an integral part of the consideration of every action.
