Good afternoon, All noted [REDACTED] if there is CCTV covering the front entrance this would have been caught on it. The broom was being swept from road height and then to head level in a swinging motion due to the females intoxicated state and anything on within the broom would have come straight into my face but I think she was missing what ever was on the floor I didn't look. I walked home thinking what a cowboy town and what a terrible impression I had just witnessed and to anybody visiting my town.

Kind regards

Karl

Hi Karl

Many thanks for your email.

As you may be aware Mr Ralph, who used to work at The Bullers, has applied for a licence at Hennesseys. Myself and numerous residents have objected to the application and a hearing is being held on Thursday morning when the Licensing Authority will have to decide to grant or refuse it.

Last week Mr Ralph was permitted to open for 3 days as he put in a temporary event notice, and therefore the sale of alcohol was legal at the time you passed the premises.

Thank you for your diligence in bringing this matter to my prompt attention.

I'll update you on Thursday once the committee have made a decision.

Kind regards
Julie

Sorry to trouble you Julie, [REDACTED], are there any currently rules regarding the above premises at the moement, I walked past off duty 24/02/2022 at approximately 22:15 hrs and there were people inside, alcoholic drinks appeared to be on the bar but I cannot confirm this as I did not enter, what I was disgusted with to be quite frank is as walking past with my little dog, a female outside the address brush in hand was sweeping something away from the front entrance area on the road, she was clearly heavily intoxicated and due to her stood there with a brush I took it that she was an employee.

She was staggering whilst holding the brush, sweeping it hopelessly practically missing the ground and I heard her say " IM TOO FUCKING PISSED TO BE CLEANING UP SICK"

The brushing motion if anything was on the brush would have just come straight towards my face, ive written down the word disgusting which is my impression of what I saw.

[REDACTED]

Kind regards

Karl
