28. Budget Monitoring Quarter 2 2022/2023

The Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Finance, Councillor Cowell, outlined the submitted budget monitoring report which provided a high level budget summary of the Council's forecasted revenue and capital income and expenditure for the financial year 2022/2023. The report was based on figures as at the end of Quarter 2.

The report predicted a draft overspend for 2022/2023 of £1.686m which included a new pressure of £0.5m associated with the costs of supporting the impact on Council services of the asylum hostel. Members noted that no new measures were in place but that the Chief Executive and Section 151 Officer continued to closely monitor spend.

Councillor Cowell and the Deputy Head of Finance, Sean Cremer, responded to the following questions:

- Were the 37 new homes being purchased by the Council temporary accommodation or social housing.
- How long was temporary housing provided for.
- What support was being provided to tenants in temporary housing accommodation.
- When were the first people likely to move into 37 new properties.
- The Finance Team were working on budgets over a four year period, when were historical budgets expected to be resolved.
- With the announced winding up of the proposed tenant for the Corbyn Head redevelopment, what alternative options were being considered for that site.
- Has the Council seen the impact of the cost of living on its collection fund and Council Tax collection rates.
- Was there any further proposals on the redevelopment of Crossways following the decision to demolish the site.
- Would adult social care funding be used towards the redevelopment of the Crossways site.
- There was a large saving in concessionary bus fares does this mean we could reduce the budget for next year.
- Did the concessionary bus fares funding include young people travelling to school or college.
- What was the reason for the increase in income from the Crematorium.
- What was being done to reduce costs in school transport.

The Board thanked the Deputy Head of Finance for all his hard work in presenting the budget monitoring to Councillors and wished him well in his new job.
