Starting School Next September?

A flying start to lifelong learning

Parents love our school

As a parent of two children that attend this school I have nothing but praise and admiration for all the effort and support myself and my children have received over the uears.

I am so impressed with Curledge Street. My son has grown in confidence and ability. I feel he is treated as an individual, which is rare in schools these days.

I'm really happy with my son's progress. He has made a massive improvement in the last few months. He's even started to come out of his shell and it's all down to the teachers in his class.

Brilliant school which offers so many opportunities for children to develop their skills and confidence. Very committed and fantastic staff! Could not be happier.
