

A Gathering of Question Marks A Memorial to Agatha Christie

The text content for question marks is for discussion. I would like to do one with focus on quotes from one book, e.g. The ABC Murders.

I find a list of the complete works, titles, interesting enough for another.

I would like to consider a horizontal, 'fallen' one, to deal with the archaeological, including translations into hieroglyphics (and hieroglyphics for children), a puzzle to unravel. But the confection on the question marks is a collaboration.

The positionings and spacings are for discussion, the exact nature of the site should be yet another collaboration. The issue of should there be a stand alone 'stay' question mark, and where, all adds to and enriches the detailed final solution.

I wish to emphasise the artwork is designed for room to tune and have genuine involvement in Torquay..

